

K-12 Home School/Independent Study Charter

EIE Academic Programs

I am interested in learning more about the following academic programs offered at EIE:

- Home School-Evergreen Institute of Excellence offers home schooling families the option to choose curriculum from our resources with the approval of the teacher or purchase curriculum with the approval of the director. Parents and teachers complete a Home School Readiness Survey to outline the student's course of study. Students participating in the home schooling model rely more heavily on the parents to choose and assign curriculum. The teacher provides support as needed. Families choosing not to use the EIE high school curriculum may not receive US/CSU A-G credit for coursework completed.
- Independent Study-Evergreen Institute of Excellence is an Independent Study charter school program that offers Independent Study. Students are expected to work from home and bring their completed work to their weekly teacher meeting. Students participating in the Independent Study model rely on their teachers to choose and assign curriculum. Students may also be required to attend small group instruction classes.
